Department arranging times for antique vendors to retrieve merchandise from Kathy's General store

Feb. 23, 2012

TOPEKA – On Tuesday, Feb. 21, the Kansas Department of Revenue seized the business assets of Kathy's General store near Holton.

The store, and owner Kathy L. Kaul Kennedy, owed more than $1.7 million in state retail sales taxes dating back to 2005.

Part of the business included an antique mall adjacent to the convenience store at 19075 US Highway 75, Holton, where Kaul Kennedy leased booths to vendors.

While the building was locked, the merchandise belonging to the various vendors was not seized by the state.

Agents from the Kansas Department of Revenue will be in contact with the various vendors by Monday, Feb. 27 to arrange a time for them to retrieve their merchandise.

Vendors may also contact the department at 785-296-0271 to schedule a time to pick it up.
